CHANGE:

difficult but . . .

not impossible!

<http://archive.org/details/chimes1970pfei>

A new school year—changes and more changes moving forward—facelifting on campus—changeover in administration—new president—struggling for women's equal rights in 1969—conflicts continue—the moratorium—pets in the dorms??—1:00 curfews on Friday—Washington without a house director—a blessing!—the dress code—baggy pants and sloppy shirts taboo?!—dollar bills into pennies—More blessings—Thanksgiving Holidays at last!—Homecoming parade—changes more apparent—Difficult but not impossible.

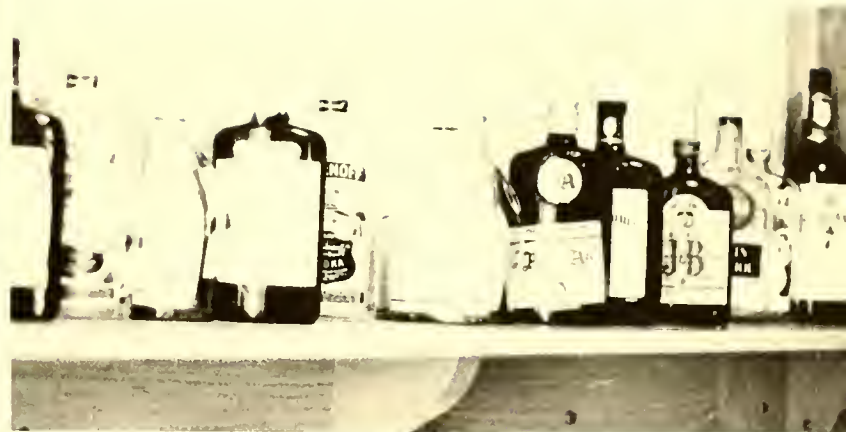

An innovating year that cannot afford complacency nor allow any part of the whole to remain still—a time to move with vision that holds an awareness of what has gone before—steps worn in the center—reminders that change can be tempered by experience, that vision needs roots to discern what is to be shed and what is worth the keeping. Thus movement gains momentum—endless activity—corners of campus life that absorbs talent and cultivate arts of leadership, science, music, sports, writing, and student service.

And in all the moving there remains some things that do not alter--the train--a enduring thread woven into the fiber of Pfeiffer . . . hot chocolate in the basement of the Ad Building . . . yellow trays, the gym swelling with Spirit, the P.O., the "good-morning" hub of the campus . . . large napkins on Sunday . . . a welcomed silence on Saturday morning . . . Pop Dry's . . . clanging pipes . . . a chapel often overflowing with noise, less often a total hush, but never a hollow hush . . . change . . . with a vision that moves not merely away from one thing but directly toward some new goal.

STUDENT GOV'T

Student Government

The approach and arrival of a new decade stirs transition . . . a transitional year for student government. The aim and purpose of the association is to define the aims and redetermine the purposes.
